Inclusion, Diversity & Equity

The County embraces and supports person-centered practices and expects contractors to do the same. Person-centered practices are structured in a way to support a client's comfort and ability to express choice, control, and direction in all aspects of service delivery and support. While the nature of some services and service deliveries is such that it must account for factors beyond the client's choice, control and direction, including, but not limited to, the terms of this Agreement, court orders, the safety of the client and others, and governing law, the County values consideration of the client's perspective, knowing that services are more efficient and effective when aligned with client choice. [For more information, refer to Person-Centered, Informed Choice and Transition Protocol, Minnesota Department of Human Services, issued 3/27/17 and updates.]

The County further recognizes that pervasive racism, discrimination and other institutional and community biases, as well as harm from historical trauma, are experienced by cultural communities and that this may contribute to overrepresentation of cultural communities in some County services. Appropriate service delivery often requires open discussion considering the real-life experiences of the people served, paying attention to the impact of pervasive racism and bias. At the referral level, it means inquiring with families about how to integrate their family or individual culture into service delivery. At the service level, it includes attention to outcomes for families receiving services in order to assess whether effectiveness differs in cultural communities and responding to any differences.

It is expected that while performing services for the County, the State shall abstain from unacceptable behaviors including, but not limited to:

- Racial, ethnic or discriminatory jokes or slurs;
- Hostile, condemning, or demeaning communications, both verbal and written;
- Behavior demonstrating disrespect, dishonesty, intimidation, or disruption to the work relationship; and
- Retaliation against any person who reports or addresses unacceptable behavior.

It is the responsibility of the State to ensure staff delivering services for the County are aware of these expectations and trained as needed to ensure respectful, cooperative and professional conduct in interactions with County staff and clients. If the County experiences or receives a report of an unacceptable behavior, it will share the report with State. The State must inform the County of steps taken to remedy the unacceptable behavior within ten (10) working days. If the unacceptable behavior persists, the County may terminate the Contract pursuant to the termination provision in the Contract.
